

You know what to do.

It's all over the news - reduce your water use by 20%.

You're not in it alone. As you do your part to conserve your community's precious water, the organizations of the Central Valley Water Awareness Committee are working together behind the scenes in drought years and in wet years.

Water conservation, groundwater replenishment, water delivery, and pollution prevention are our business every day, no matter the weather forecast.
